Board Settles Insurance Problem, Re-Writes Policies

Dispute over what company should carry fire insurance for Palm Springs schools ended today as the board of education unanimously voted to re-write all existing policies.

Acting on recommendation of Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder, the board agreed to cancel its existing policies and take out five-year insurance with the same companies, enabling the district to escape expected insurance rate increases.

The policies for $3 million involve premiums of $14,342. The action virtually nullified arguments waged by Mrs. Al Lehrfeld, Village Insurance broker, who last week capped a long campaign to have the policies carried by her companies.

BOARD MEMBERS indicated their doubt of whether the companies suggested by Mrs. Lehrfeld could qualify for school district insurance, and the board followed the lead of Member Arnold Rumwell in "getting this thing settled."

Rumwell opened discussion of the insurance problem at yesterday's special school board meeting by stating: "I am greatly surprised at the failure of the board to take action on this matter."

Rumwell was absent at last week's meeting, held while he was undergoing surgery at Desert Hospital.

The dead and injured all were in a car that struck a slow-moving vehicle driven by Jay Peterson, 21, San Diego.

Dulles Says Soviet People Forced Move

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today attributed the recent upheaval in the Kremlin to an "irresistible demand" of the Russian people for more freedom and "more enjoyment of the fruits of their labor."

Dulles said at a news conference that the Soviet ruling body, the Presidium, was divided on how to deal with this demand of the people.

THE "FUNDAMENTALISTS" wanted to use the Stalinist "rod of iron." The "modernists," led by Nikita S. Khrushchev, thought it better to "allow the people at least to hope" for better things. Khrushchev, through "adroit tactics," won out, Dulles said. But this, he added, does not indicate any change in Soviet foreign policy. Dulles also:

SAID HE SEES no absolute obstruction to continued disarmament negotiations despite recent Russian attacks on U.S. proposals. Disclosed the U. S. is considering some stockpiling system for

Russ, Czech Economic Unity Set

Khrushchev Says Needed to Compete With Capitalists

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev announced today that Russia and Czechoslovakia have agreed to unify their industrial and economic power so "we can successfully compete with the capitalist world."

In his farewell speech in Prague's Old Town Square, Khrushchev disclosed the bare outline of a new coordination plan which would integrate the economies of the two Communist countries as never before.

"WE DISCUSSED economic ties between the two countries," Khrushchev told the cheering crowd of tens of thousands. "We have to improve the coordination of the industry and agriculture of our two countries."

"There are no personalities involved in this matter," Rumwell noted. "But I feel the board will be dilatory if it doesn't cancel and re-write the district policies."

"I am definitely opposed to changing the companies," concluded Rumwell.

OTHER MEMBERS concurred in the idea that the current policies held are the "best obtainable" and all agreed that they were "entirely satisfied."

Discussion of the question was interrupted by a long distance telephone call from Los Angeles. Muelder said Mrs. Lehrfeld called to inform the board "she would be happy to explain any points" of her argument to board members.

However, members felt they fully understood Mrs. Lehrfeld's point of view and were content to go ahead with the same insurance plan "for the best interests of the school district."

Japan Relaxes Trade Embargo Against China

TOKYO — Japan followed Britain today and relaxed its trade embargo against Communist China.

Certain strategic items are still on the prohibited list, but some Japanese businessmen optimistically saw the freeing of 200 or more items as a cure all to eliminate Japan's economic ills. Most were more cautious.

Lifting of the ban scaled the Red China embargo down to the same level as the restrictions in existence against Soviet Russia. These include "strategic" items that could be used for war.

Lower School Budget Given Board Okeh

Major Change Results in Use Of Building Fund

A revised, and lowered, school budget of $1,807,279 for the 1957-58 school year won unanimous approval of the Palm Springs Board of Education yesterday.

Based on approximately the same tax structure as last year, the publication budget is $21,637 below the preliminary plan viewed two weeks ago and carries a new program for two school additions.

MAJOR CHANGES in the preliminary budget calling for $1,828,916 involved shunting of high school improvements from capital outlay to building funds and provisions for four new classrooms at Cathedral City and Nellie N. Coffman Schools.

Public hearing on the budget was set for 8 p.m., Aug. 8, during the regular school board meeting at the high school administration building conference room.

The board ordered publication of the budget in The Desert Sun during the last week of July. Deadline for final adoption of the budget is Aug. 8.

BOARD MEMBER Frank Muller posed the question of whether the hearing should be held at a time separate from the regular meeting, giving more time and attention to the hearing.

However, members anticipated no opposition or question of the budget as it stands today.

In viewing the revised draft, Member Arnold Rumwell indicated that he considered it a commendable plan.

"With the exception of salaries, our school costs are being reduced from last year, aren't they,"

Floodwaters Down in Chicago

By UNITED PRESS
Floodwaters receded in the Chicago area today, leaving a toll of 15 dead and damage figured in the millions of dollars.

However, a new onslaught of torrential rains in the Midwest brought a flood threat to sections of Minnesota.

The Little Calumet River, swollen by the runoff from Chicago's record 6.24-inch weekend rainfall, was back in its banks today after inundating about 200 homes in the Hammond, Ind., suburb of Highland.

Byrd Hits Brownell, Earl Warren

Virginia Senator Uses Civil Rights Talk for Remarks

WASHINGTON — Sen. Harry F. Byrd today compared Chief Justice Earl Warren to Thaddeus Stevens, long hated in the South as the author of repressive acts after the Civil War.

The Virginia Democrat also attacked Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. in a Senate speech against President Eisenhower's civil rights bill. Byrd said Brownell had ducked questions as to whether it would permit use of federal troops to force racial integration of schools in the South.

BYRD SAID President Eisenhower didn't know what could be done under the bill in his connection but that the Chief Justice did. "Of course," he said, "I have no documentary proof, and I suspect by design there is none, but speaking for myself, I strongly suspect that the modern Thaddeus Stevens now cloaked in the robe of the Chief Justice . . . has a thorough and complete knowledge of what could and would be done under the bill."

AS FOR BROWNELL, Byrd said:

"This is the man—the attorney general—of whom this bill would make a 20th Century American Caesar. He wants no questions asked, even now in advance, as to what his powers would be under the bill."

Earlier, Republican legislative leaders had reported Eisenhower would not object to "clarification" of the bill through amendments but is not willing to compromise its "basic" purpose.

Indian Bureau Seeks to Cancel Rights-of-Way

A move by the local Bureau of Indian Affairs to have granted rights-of-way on the north end of town cancelled, was temporarily stopped this week after the city requested more time to come up with a plan for an alternate route for Highway 111.

The request for cancellation of the rights-of-way was to have been sent to the Secretary of Interior for action, but the move was stopped by City Manager R. W. Peterson when he asked the local bureau to hold off until plans now being formulated by planning consultant Si Eisner were completed.

The land which is affected by action is located in the north end of the Village in Sections 2, 12 and 18. The City of Palm Springs has had the rights of way since 1938.

New Kreis Cocktail Lounge Gets Study

In an attempt to have the City Council reverse its decision to protect a liquor license for a cocktail lounge in the Oasis Building, Dewey Metzendorf and Milton F. Kreis appeared at the council luncheon Monday, and after an hour and a half were told they would have to take the matter first before the variance board and then the council.

At the last regular meeting of the council, the application by M. F. Kreis was protested because of insufficient parking, but the two men yesterday claimed that because the Oasis turned its parking lot over to the city for use as a municipal parking lot, it caused a greater turn-over automobile parking, thereby aiding the situation.

BUT CITY MANAGER R. W. Peterson would not accept the explanation as a valid reason for changing the council's action. He pointed out that whether the parking lot was city controlled with parking meters or privately con-

Dutch Airliner Crash In Pacific Claims 56 Lives

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea — A Dutch airliner caught fire today on takeoff from the South Pacific island of Biak and crashed into the sea with 68 persons aboard.

Preliminary reports said 56 persons were missing and feared dead in the crash and that 12 persons including the stewardess, escaped with their lives.

The airline said several of the 12 survivors were injured seriously. All of the survivors were Dutch, it said.

THE PLANE, A Constellation of the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, was reported to have sunk in 700 feet of water. It was taking off from Mokmer airstrip which was hacked out of a coral island by U.S. Navy Seabees in World War II.

The plane carried 59 passengers, three of them Britons and the remainder Dutch, and a crew of nine, all Dutch. Many of the victims were consular officials and naval officers and their families en route to Holland on leave.

BIAK ISLAND is off the northern tip of New Guinea and was used by the U.S. Navy during the war for operations against the Japanese-held Solomon Islands.

Average Speed Is 726 MPH

Beats Old Record Of Air Force Jet By 21 Minutes

NEW YORK — A Navy jet fighter set a new transcontinental speed record today.

Marine Maj. John Glenn Jr. took off from Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, Calif., at 6:04:12.2 a.m. p.d.t.

His F8UJF Crusader jet was clocked over the control tower at Floyd Bennett Naval Air Station here at 9:27:30.6 a.m., an elapsed time of three hours, 23 minutes and 8.4 seconds.

THAT BEAT BY 21 minutes and 45.48 seconds the official record set March 5, 1955, by an Air Force F84F jet.

Glenn slowed down for three refuelings in flight—over Grants, N. M., Emporia, Kan., and Columbus, Ohio.

His average speed was figured unofficially at 726.48 miles per hour for the 2,460-mile flight.

THE NAVY HAD announced Glenn was trying for a "first supersonic speed record" across the continent. It figured this would be set at an average speed of 760 miles per hour, which is the speed of sound at sea level rather than at flight level. He failed by about five minutes in this attempt.

Glenn broke through the sonic barrier at least four times in flight to maintain that average, after takeoff and after each refueling.

Top speed of the supersonic Chance Vought jet has not been disclosed. It was clocked at 1,015.428 miles an hour in setting a Thompson Trophy speed record in August, 1956, the manufacturer said.

THE NAVY SAID today's flight was designed to "test the sustained capability of the F8U at near maximum power over a long distance."

Another jet plane, which took off from Los Alamitos one hour and nine minutes before Glenn, landed at Floyd Bennett about three minutes before the record flight flashed over the control tower.

The Douglas A3D Pathfinder, piloted by Lt. Cmdr. Theodore Doolin, Patuxent, Md., was dispatched ahead of the record shooting planes to check weather conditions and navigational aids and report by air to air radio on any unusual conditions.

Armed Forces Have Developed Nine Different Missiles, Test 18 More

(Editor's Note: Missile development is revolutionizing weaponry. The U.S. has or is furiously working on nearly 30 missiles, some guided and some unguided. The new weapons are named after everything from Greek gods to desert rattle snakes. If you have not been able to keep track of them, the following dispatch may help.)

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The Armed Forces have put nine different guided missiles in the hands of combat units and are working to develop at least 18 more.

The robot weapons now ready for action are of comparatively short range.

The highest priority now is on efforts to beat Russia in the race to perfect missiles in both the 3,000- to 5,500-mile "intercontinental" and the 1,500-mile "intermediate" range.

In this, the services are engaged in intense competition among themselves.

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT officials concede that inter-service competition caused duplication of effort. But they say some duplication is needed to make sure the United States gets the best missiles possible.

Each of the missiles now in the hands of combat units is designed to perform a different task or to cope with problems peculiar to the service involved. Here they are:

ARMY NIKE-AJA—Anti-aircraft guided missiles guarding at least 13 major cities and four air bases in the United States. Range is about 25 miles, can reach planes at 50,000 feet altitude. It can be "commanded" from the ground.

ARMY CORPORAL—Bombardment weapon for battlefield use. Can strike targets 50 to 100 miles distant. Can carry a nuclear warhead. A jam-proof missile, super-sonic like the Nike, the Corporal cannot be balked once it is launched. It has been assigned to troops in Europe.

AIR FORCE MATADOR—A 600- to 700-mile-an-hour surface-to-surface winged missile that flies about 650 miles. It, too, can deliver an atomic punch. Units are in Europe. The Matador is now being replaced with a version having greater range and an improved guidance system which resists electronic jamming.

AIR FORCE FALCON—A small guided missile weighing about 100 pounds used against opposing aircraft. Interceptors can carry a number of these rockets under their wings. They are electronically fired and guided to the target.

NAVY REGULUS—A naval version of the Matador which can be carried by either surface vessels or submarines.

NAVY TERRIER—A needle-nosed supersonic missile launched from surface vessels to knock down attacking aircraft. It rides a radar beam to the target and is accurate to about 20 miles.

NAVY SPARROW—An air-to-air missile carried by aircraft to launch against enemy aircraft. Deadly at five miles.

NAVY SIDEWINDER—The Navy's newest air-to-air missile can destroy enemy bombers anywhere from sea level to 50,000 feet. It homes in on the infra-red rays emitted from the exhaust of a jet aircraft or missile and destroys its target by slamming right up the tail pipe.

NAVY PETREL—A guided missile launched by patrol planes against enemy vessels. The Petrel can be fired from well outside a ship's anti-aircraft defense, thus saving the pilot from hazards of anti-aircraft fire.

The Army's Redstone missile is not yet in combat units but may be soon. The missile, capable of carrying either nuclear or non-atomic warheads, is believed to have been fired about 200 miles.

Successors to these missiles and a batch of new types are coming along fast.

Harpo Marx Reports Breakin' At Former Home

Sheriff's deputies this weekend investigated the illegal entry of the Harpo Marx home near the Wonder Palms Hotel.

Marx called the sheriff's office to report that not only his home, but also the homes of his brothers were broken into.

On investigation, deputies found that nothing had been taken from the premises, but that the bed in the master bedroom had been slept in.

Marx just recently moved into his new home in the Tamarisk area and had not been near the old home for about a week.

Leader of Africa's Newest Nation Has Wonderful Time

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Kwame Nkrumah, leader of Africa's newest nation, seems to be having a wonderful time.

Not only is he prime minister of Ghana, the former British Gold Coast colony, but he also is its foreign and defense minister.

He enjoys virtual dictatorial power as head of his Convention People's Party.

He has moved into magnificent Christiansborg Castle, which used to be the residence of the British colonial governor.

And now Nkrumah is having his own head, instead of that of Queen Elizabeth II, put on Ghana's stamps and coins.

HIS POLITICAL opponents are not pleased. They complain that he spent nearly $200,000 in having the 300-year-old castle, built by Danish traders, fixed up for himself and his mother. He is a bachelor and she is his official hostess.

Nkrumah's supporters say the castle was renovated to house the Duchess of Kent, who represented her niece Queen Elizabeth when Ghana attained its independence last March 6 as the ninth member of the British Commonwealth.

The opponents retort that with Nkrumah occupying the castle, the taxpayers will have to pay for the construction of a new and equally impressive residence for the new British governor-general.

IN THE CASTLE incident, and in the decision to put Nkrumah's head on the stamps and coins, his opponents see signs of delusions of grandeur and hint that Ghana is heading toward a dictatorship which might take either a Fascist or an extreme leftist slant.

Nkrumah said in his inaugural speech that he would pursue a pro-Western policy. He asked Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who represented President Eisenhower at the ceremony, for American cooperation.

Nkrumah's enemies say that at one time he carried a Communist Party membership card. Nkrumah points out that it was un-

Prior to the formal installation, 12 new members were inducted into the new lodge in a closed ceremony. Following the installation rites, a dance was held in honor of the incoming officers. During the several dance intermissions, prizes donated by local merchants were awarded.

Larry Brandyberry, membership director, assisted the dance committee in arranging the program for the evening.

The winning quintet were Theresa Costello, 18, of Arlington, Nelda Arzate, 16, of Perris, Diana Percival, 17, Kay Lynn Mathews, 17, and Tina Michels, 17, all of Hemet.

THE TRIO OF judges who had the difficult job of selecting the five contestants from 13 entries were Ralph Seligman, public Relations department with Lee and Associates of Los Angeles, Ed Ritter, consultant for Riverside County secondary schools, and Louis Wass, Los Angeles, chairman of California Turkey Promotion Advisory Board of Riverside.

Other Riverside County girls who took part in the contest were Ginger Lee Freeman from Wildomar; Myrtle Reader, Arlington; Debbie Woolfolk, San Jacinto; Linda Hagan, Mary Frances Rascoe, Irene Harris, Kay Reid and Linda Wiser, all of Hemet.

THE PRELIMINARY judging was based on beauty, poise, personality and speaking ability. The five finalists will be guests of the 11th annual Farmers' Fair and during the five-day run will match skills in a series of fun packed contests scheduled daily.

Scoring with a point system, the girl who proves most adept at actual farm chores such as milking a cow, driving a tractor, sewing a patch and baking biscuits will be crowned with a "Straw Hat" Sunday, Aug. 25. All five farmerettes will receive valuable awards with the lucky winner receiving special prizes.

Flu Vaccine Set For Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government told drug manufacturers today to proceed with mass production of a vaccine effective in warding off the highly contagious "Oriental flu" now spreading throughout the world.

Working closely together, government and industry scientists developed the vaccine in a "crash program" to make it available by the start of the flu season this fall.

The Public Health Service announced Wednesday the vaccine has been tested successfully on human volunteers injected with the Oriental virus.

Village Residents Enjoy Outdoors, And Reading Too

Despite the countless number of outdoor activities offered by resort living, Palm Springs residents have indicated that the simple art of reading is a top ranking form of recreation, rain or shine.

Village book worms are reading more than ever today, according to Palm Springs Librarian Dorothy Bear.

Miss Bear reported that resort readers borrowed 130,000 volumes from the main library and 10,500 from the library branch in the 12-month period ending June 30.

DURING THE previous 12-month period, villagers carried home 115,000 books from the library and only 6,900 from the branch.

Reading habits of library customers indicate a strong favoritism for fiction, since 59,890 fictional works were taken from library shelves, in contrast to 31-

SCHOOL DISTRICT GETS LITTLE STATE SUPPORT

Palm Springs Unified School District will receive only $369,500 State assistance for a proposed budget of $1,828,916 for the 1957-58 fiscal year. This disappointing figure was announced by District Supt. Wallace R. Muelder when the budget figures were announced. The allowance is based on $5 per pupil average attendance during the year.

Some school districts in California get as much as $72 a pupil, Muelder said. The Palm Springs School District officials had hoped to obtain a state allowance of around $15 per pupil. That would have meant about $640,000 more state aid. This difference will have to be made up by taxpayers in the Unified School District.

Just how state aid for the various school districts is arrived at we do not know, but it appears from the figures that this district might not be receiving its fair share. Perhaps the School Board should look into this matter and see why it is that the state chopped off about two-thirds from anticipated assistance for the next fiscal year.

School Costs Increase

The proposed $1,828,916 1957-58 budget represents an increase of $231,031 over the previous year. Muelder has explained that $200,000 of this represents salary increases for personnel and the addition of 25 new employees. While enrollment has increased 15.3 per cent in the past three years it would seem that such an increase in costs is necessary. The cost for the new employees alone amounts to $110,000. Most people approve of salary increases for the teachers but need for 25 new employees might be questioned. Teachers' salaries account for more than half of the proposed budget for $1,006,383.

First figures released implied the cost per pupil at $450 based on average attendance for the fiscal year. It has since been discovered that the figure is actually $510 per pupil. Such an increase does not spell out careful budgeting and diligent administration claimed by Muelder. It would seem to most people that the overhead cost per pupil should be reduced considerably with increased enrollment.

The citizen's committee which has recently been organized for the purpose of keeping residents in closer touch with affairs of our school district should carefully review this proposed budget if they have not already done so. We want good schools and well paid teachers but we also have a right to expect that our school district be operated as efficiently and economically as possible. A breakdown of the $822,500 for costs other than teachers' salaries should be given special scrutiny.

'They Shall Not Pass'

BOISE, Idaho—It was the "embattled farmers" who won America's first major battle and occasionally in modern times the homespun boys from the grass-roots still rise up and shoot down the enemies of freedom.

This happened just before the July 4th recess, when a large delegation arrived in Washington from Idaho to oppose the Morse-Pfost bill for a Federalized dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake River. The delegation included leaders of the Farm Bureau, the Idaho State Grange a spokesman for the State Tax Commission, some hick-town boosters and at least one small-town newspaper publisher whom I met on this trip, which was sponsored by the Idaho Power Company Public Relations.

HE IS R. S. Tofflemire of the Twin Falls (Idaho) Times-News. The following dialogue ensued between the mild Mr. Tofflemire and the Democratic needleman of the House Interior Committee, Rep. Clair Engle of California.

Rep. Engle: "Mr. Tofflemire, are you aware that this Government in the past few years has given some $50 million of American taxpayers' money to various countries of the world?"

Mr. Tofflemire: "I have so heard, yes, sir."

Rep. Engle: "Do you not think that that kind of development is good overseas . . . that it is proper for . . . Congress (to give) some of the taxpayers' money for those things that benefit America?"

MR. TOFFLEMIRE: "I do not agree, Mr. Engle, for this reason: I am of the opinion that the Government can give us nothing in the first place which it has not taken away from us originally."

AS OTHER EDITORS VIEW THE NEWS DANGEROUS GUNS

(Hemet News)

In Omaha, a 24-year-old mother, emotionally disturbed by her baby's crying, got out a .32-caliber revolver and shot the infant.

Only the day before, in another city, a 2-year-old, finding a revolver in a drawer, shot his sleeping mother.

Both cases are examples of what may happen as a result of the common folly of keeping a pistol or revolver in the house "for protection."

It is a rare case indeed when burglars or other intruders are shot with these weapons, but the toll of innocent victims is appalling.

Scores of tragedies would be averted if all the guns kept "for protection" were thrown into the nearest river, and householders depended upon the police to deal with criminals.

No More Peeping Toms

By early autumn the professional Peeping Toms in this country are going to be out of work. An advance scrutiny of the new fall fashions for my sex reveal—and, boy, is that verb used advisedly!—that everything is going to be out in the open and nothing left to the imagination in 1957-58.

Tom can look—and legally—to his heart's content. As far as I can figure out, any chic dress for after-6 p.m. wear consists of a skirt, slit to the knee either in front or at the sides, with an itty-bittsy bib arrangement above the waist and, and, absolutely nothing else.

Grandma would have said that there wasn't enough material in these dresses to flag a bread-wagon, and Kipling put it another way when he described Gunga Din's clothing thus: "The uniform 'e wore was nothin' much before, And less'n 'arf o' that 'e ind."

Some time ago I wrote a column predicting that this nation would go nudist in another 20 to 25 years. I now wish to shave about 15 years off that estimate. It is later and less than you think.

This is the season that bares not only the back—but just as far south as the law allows—but the rib cage. To ventilate the rib cage and get it out into the open together with the rear facade, the couturiers of New York's Seventh Avenue and the couturiers have gotten together to perfect what is soon to be advertised as "the backless, frontless and strapless brassiere."

Like myself, you may well ask what is left of this garment, save possibly the uplift or the downward draft, after the front, back and the straps have been removed.

What is left is a couple of wired containers joined by a V-shaped piece of pipe that drops earthward like a meteor. In order not to impinge on the rib cage, this contraption is ingeniously held in place, not by glue or faith, but by narrow elastic that fastens around the trunk a little south of the waistline.

There will soon be a black evening dress on the market whose top consists of leopard straps strategically crossed in front, and a second whose bib is reduced to a band of fox where it will do the most good. The bodice, slashed in front to the waistline, that seemed so daring last spring is now for the conservative trade.

Clearly, what is just over the horizon is pre-shurik or whittled down Bikini with a knee-length skirt. But I must not anticipate the spring mode, 1958.

If there is less going on above, the same condition prevails below. Full skirts will hang a good 17 inches from the floor, and the light ones will be only an inch and a half to two inches longer.

A spokesman for the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute said it was looking forward to "a successfully naked season" and feels there is no question of overexposure this side of the navel, on which Miss Gypsy Rose Lee has a patent.

However, this will be a difficult season for the woman with a rubber tire around her middle. Her rib cage could look more like a beer barrel.

As for the men, visibility will be practically unlimited, because 1957-58 clothes are real gone—in fact, practically all gone.

NEW YORK—Well, by cracky!—as they used to say back home in Indiana.

Herb Shriner is now taking lessons flying a seaplane. After he solos soon, and gets his pilot's license, the Hoosier comedian can fly from Mamaroneck into N.Y. to do television.

"All I'll need then is some television to do," grins Herb, who adds, "Since being off TV, I've rediscovered living."

Herb and his wife Pixie are now interested in hunting buried treasure, particularly a Spanish galleon off the Bahamas. They have a diving boat and other necessities.

This week Herb's off to play a theater—Radio City in Minneapolis. He's also about to play the "Supermarket Circuit."

Some supermarkets give a certain type of Green Stamps which entitles you to see a big show in Tu'sa or Denver starring Dean Martin and Herb Shriner.

The old gag about Hollywood stars playing filling stations and the supermarkets is coming true—except that the pay is good and it's very dignified.

Herb's got a new TV program in mind, but it'll probably wait till next year while he works on a B-way show, harmonica recordings, buried treasure, supermarkets and, "at resting."

Barbara Nichols, the "Sweet Smell of Success" doll, is in love with a married man who doesn't know of her adoration. She laments, "Why is it the older men get, the more attractive they get?" . . . Comedian Lou Nelson was assured an NBC fling due to his brilliant performance at the Lake Taron Inn in the presence of Marie Sacks, NBC veep. One of his routines concerns ex-TV stars, for example: "How do you like Imogene Coca?" . . . "Oh, that's fattening. I drink only No-Cal."

Today's worse pun is from Jack Perlis about Ed Sullivan trying to book those fired Russian leaders as the "Four Muzhiks" and calling it the CBS Nyet-work . . . "If you see somebody scowling fiercely, don't be alarmed; it's probably just one of Lawrence Welk's musicians enjoying a vacation" . . . Norman Hendrickson . . . A drink called "The Ivy League" was concocted by Stanley Dombroff; "take one sip and you get a belt in the back" . . . Irving Hoffman calls them "lunging necklines."

Tex O'Rourke, the Circus Saints & Sinners razzamatz, is one of the most honest public speakers alive. Midway during a speech, he pauses to take a drink from a highball glass. Then he says, "I didn't take that because I was thirsty—but because I like it!"

Ray Walston, appearing in "Kiss Them for Me," with Jayne Mansfield, tells me Jayne's quite conscious of her outstanding talent. She like the other performers must toe chalk marks when shooting, and the other day, Jayne looked down at the floor, and said, "Oh, I can't see my marks" . . . Mike Todd has his staff hunting him a house on Cape Cod. Liz Taylor—who's been told by her doctor to quit traveling—will probably have her baby here in the East.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Ed Sullivan disagrees with Steve Allen's statement (on the Mike Wallace show) that an entertainer can put on a better show than a newspaperman because he knows what the public wants.

Says Ed: "A newspaperman's better equipped to sample public opinion—that's our racket," on the comment that Steve isn't interested in rating battles, Ed adds, "They flew Pat Boone in, in NBC's private plan, for him; they brought in Bob Hope, the cream of their network; they take huge ads. Isn't that all for ratings?"

Singer Micki Mario was asked to tour with Jerry Lewis, but she's signed for the Folies . . . Ernie Kovacs took the train to H'wood to film a five-minute trailer . . . Frank Sinatra dated Lana Turner . . . Hey, Casey Stengel! Some of your Yankee's stayed up till 2 a.m. at Grossinger's—playing ping pong . . . IT'LL BE PETER Lind Hayes sitting in for Arthur Godfrey for five weeks starting Aug. 12 . . . Van Heflin, who up to now has been avoiding TV like the plague, tells me he's at last ready to join the ever-lengthening line of movie stars pointed toward TV's studios.

I asked Van why the change. Said he: "I used to feel it was disloyal of movie stars to divide their time between picture-making and TV. But when the movie studios dumped their old pictures on the TV market, I changed my mind. Loyalty is a two-way proposition—if actors are to be loyal to movie studios, the studios must in turn be loyal to actors. I fell the studios were being disloyal when they sold their movie backlogs of old films to TV. For that reason, I no longer feel any compunction about doing TV. Just show me a good TV script and see how fast I snap it up!"

Entry blanks are available for the annual Talent Show Contest, one of the highlights of the Farmers Fair of Riverside County, to be held at Hemet Aug. 21 through 23 with Phil Howerton, special events director, in charge of the popular event.

The contest is open to professional and amateur entertainers in all fields with the daily winners receiving a cash award and also competing in the finals to be held on Aug. 23 for the grand prize.

Stage facilities, lights, sound system and piano accompaniment will be furnished by the fair. Contestants must register by Aug. 15 on an official entry blank and the management has the right to audition all entries.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing to the Farmers Fair, P.O. Box 398, Hemet.

This program, now in effect, was inaugurated about a year ago and to date has been very well accepted in both the Palm Springs District and over the balance of the California Water & Telephone Company's operating territory.

Desert Area Scouts Visit Washington, Arrive at Jamboree

(Editor's Note: David Michel, of Palm Springs, will report on activities of local boys attending the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. This is his third dispatch to The Desert Sun.)

Our thrilling train ride through the South neared an end Monday (July 8) as we pulled into Washington, D.C., — the last stop before Valley Forge and the Jamboree.

We enjoyed one of our most memorable stops along the way on July 7, when we visited the capital of the Confederacy, Richmond, Va. We went to church at the Richmond Presbyterian church and, after services, attended a coke party on the church lawn.

AFTER TOURING Richmond, visiting the city's churches, the state capitol, parks and historic landmarks, we journeyed to Williamsburg, a city authentically restored to its Colonial appearance.

The re-construction, costing about $84 million, was financed by John D. Rockefeller and his son, John Jr.

We soon traveled to Jamestown, a short distance away from colorful Williamsburg, and saw the Jamestown Festival—a group of buildings and exhibits depicting the history of the era in which the settlers lived.

We returned to the train after supper, and we were off for Washington.

AWAKENING AT 4:30 a.m., Monday, we found ourselves in the nation's capital and hurried out for breakfast in the station cafeteria.

Next we embarked on a tour of the Senate Chambers at the Capitol, and also viewed the President's room. We saw the Washington Memorial and, after lunch, visited the Smithsonian Institute and witnessed the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

LEAVING THE tomb, we drove to Mount Vernon, 15 miles away, and went through the home of George Washington. Our next stop was the Lincoln Memorial, back at the capital, and the Thomas Jefferson Memorial.

Our last sightseeing stop was the Hall of Records, where we read the original Declaration of Independence.

This busy day ended at 10 a.m., when we returned to the train and set out for Valley Forge, scheduled to arrive at the Jamboree at 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Actually, we rolled out of bed at 4, and at 5 a.m. left the train to load on buses. Our breakfast on arrival was sardines and peanut butter sandwiches, as they didn't expect us until later and didn't have provisions ready. The rest of the day was spent in unloading trucks and setting up camp.

The next day we were busy finishing preparations, and started trading with boys of other states. Hilton McCabe received a letter that he was officially an Eagle Scout.

Tackett Announces Four Major Southland Projects for $4 Million

Ending more than two years of long range planning, Palm Springs developer Bill Tackett today launched the first of four major Southland building projects expected to cost almost $4 million.

Tackett said work started today on a $1-million San Bernardino shopping center, which heads a list of ultra-modern commercial and residential developments planned for Banning, Redlands and Upland.

The Banning and Upland projects are being engineered by Norvick Engineering firm, of Los Angeles.

THIRD ON THE construction schedule is the Redlands housing development, earmarked for building in late fall at Cypress and Orange Streets.

Last of the four-pronged building program is the Upland development, which again combines a shopping and medical center of 24 units.

This modern center will be located on "C" Street, between Third and Fourth Streets and is scheduled for construction about the same time, or shortly after, work starts on the Redlands housing project.

Lee Backstrand Named to New Committee Post

Assemblyman Lee D. Backstrand of Riverside has been named a member of the 10-man interim subcommittee on public land, grading and forest practices of the lower house interim committee on agriculture.

The appointment was announced this week by Assemblyman William W. Hansen of Fresno, chairman of the agriculture committee.

Backstrand will also serve on the following interim and joint interim committees and boards during the 1957-58 period: Joint Colorado River Boundary; Industrial Relations; Military and Veterans Affairs; Transportation and Commerce; and Transportation Problems.

Both the San Bernardino and Redlands projects are designed by Joseph Kikavi, of Palm Springs.

SLATED FOR construction in the early fall is a smaller shopping center in Banning, to be located at 10th and Ramsey Streets.

The Banning center is hoped around a highway store unit will occupy 40,000 square feet of floor space. The center's lot area measures 1,600 feet, Tackett said.

A-3C HAROLD W. RAMSEY and A-2C Gerald Paquette, of Joshua Tree and Palm Springs, get acquainted with Gil the Lion at California State Night at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska, during California State Night at the USO.

Ramsey, Paquette Attend State Night in Anchorage

A-3C Harold W. Ramsey of Joshua Tree and A-2C Gerald J. Paquette of Palm Springs, now stationed with the Air Force at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska, were among "transplanted" Californians attending California State Night at the F Street USO in Anchorage last week.

One hundred and twenty civilians and military personnel — all former residents of California — gathered in the USO and saw friends from their hometowns and visited with former high school and college classmates.

One of the highlights of the evening's entertainment was the appearance of Gil, 210 pound lioness of S.Sgt. and Mrs. Glenn Dietl of Sacramento. The big cat, which arrived in Anchorage in January, will be taken to California in two years when Dietl completes his service at Elmendorf Air Force Base.

Governor Goodwin Knight, unable to attend because of conflicting engagements, sent greetings which were read to the ballroom throng. Mrs. Hallie Williams of San Luis Obispo won the door prize, a free telephone call anywhere in California.

California was selected to lead a parade of state nights planned at the F Street USO because more California servicemen signed the F Street USO state books during April than did servicemen from any other state. New York, losing the contest by three signatures, will hold its state night program during the later part of July.

Droodles By ROGER PRICE

"MAN WHO JUST WASHED HIS FACE AND CAN'T DO A THING WITH IT"

To determine whether there were any other jokes built around the expression used in this Droodle, I shoved it (along with 50 cents) into the HUMOR slot on Dr. Schweine's Electronic Brain, Schweinevac. A few seconds later I got a container of coffee (black), one donut (sugared) and the following list of jokes (Corny). 1. The Magician had difficulty getting his Rabbit to come out of the hat so he said to the audience, "I just washed my Hare and I can't do a thing with it." 2. The man, when arrested by a traffic cop for passing a red light, said to him, "I'm sorry officer but I just washed my car and I can't do a thing with it. The list went on and on so I decided to make up a new title for this Droodle. Here it is: "PRACTICE PATIENT LEAVING SCHOOL FOR PLASTIC SURGEONS."

Village Oil

WAYLAND, Mich. — (UP) — Six new wells, producing 200 barrels of oil a day, have been drilled on the outskirts of this village, but the law prevents drilling within the village and bars drillers from tapping the top potential of the oil field.

Trailer Sales Show Increase

Registration of new trailers and mobile homes in California during April 1957 totaled 1,790 units, a gain of 14 per cent over the previous month of March 1957, according to John O'Connor, executive director of the Trailer Coach Association. The figure also represents an 11 per cent gain over the comparable month of April 1956.

The populous Southern California counties of Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino accounted for 1,141 units, 64 per cent of the new registration and 20 per cent gain over their figure for March.

O'Connor pointed out that these figures include the products of all manufacturers and not those of TCA members exclusively.

Texas' cement industry produced 24 million barrels of cement valued at $64,800,000 during 1956.

Drinking Driver Is Menace On Highway

Persons who drive while under the influence of alcohol are definite menaces on the highways, says the California Highway Patrol.

"Current records indicate a continuing increase in the number of persons who drive while under the influence of alcohol," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "In fact, drivers under the influence of alcohol are piling up a shameful record of death and injury on our streets and highways."

"Investigation shows these errant drivers fail to realize the hazards of such action, that one slight error in judgment may cause a regrettable accident," Caldwell stated. "A tight situation occurs requiring quick, positive action and a fast reaction to avoid trouble, but the drinking driver's mental and physical reaction time is slowed to the danger point."

"The result is a blinding crash and another traffic accident is charged to the drinking driver," he continued. "Safety, not sorrow, is possible through a sensible approach to our driving problems; an important factor is to avoid driving while influenced by intoxicants."

More than 5,000 scientists and engineers and 250 million dollars are estimated to be involved in the International Geophysical Year investigations.

Plan Meat Buying For Several Meals

LINCOLN, Neb. —When buying meat, plan for more than one meal at a time to save time and money.

Diligent use of meat cuts extends the meat dollar, says Clara N. Leopold, extension home management specialist at the University of Nebraska.

For example, a chuck arm roast can be cut to serve three ways. The rounded, boneless end is ideal for beef stew. The center part with the rounded bone is an economical and tasty pot roast. The remaining pieces can be sliced lengthwise into two Swiss steaks.

Steak Garnish

Garnishes can be so easy to prepare and add color and individuality to a meat platter too. An unusual steak garnish may be prepared by wrapping a half slice of bacon around a tomato wedge. The bacon slice can be secured with a wooden pick. A mushroom cap can then be placed on the tip of the wooden pick. These bacon-tomato-mushroom garnishes can be broiled with the steak during the last 8 to 10 minutes of cooking.

Ray Knowles To Be Wed

Raymond Vincent Knowles, Jr. Ensign with the U. S. ## TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Wally Burkemo, one of the toughest little men in the history of match play, today analyzed the PGA golf championship as the toughest tournament in the world "any way you look at it."

Burkemo, the blue-eyed blond from Franklin, Mich., should know about how tough things can be. He discovered that much as a twice-wounded infantry sergeant with the 7th Armored Division in Normandy and as a three-time finalist in this fairway rat race which opens Wednesday at Miami Valley Country Club.

"PHYSICALLY, MENTALLY or any way you want to look at it, this is the toughest tournament in the world because you have to play a scheduled 162 holes in five days to hit the jackpot," he explained. There is a great difference between medal play—the mere matching of total scores for 72 holes as most tournaments are played—and the man-to-man PGA championship.

"The greatest difference is that in match play there is the need to think on every hole and there is pressure on every hole," he asserted. "In medal play, the tendency is, if you aren't going right and you hear about the 68s and 69s the early starters turned in, to lose your incentive when you have one or two bad holes."

"BUT IN MATCH play," he added, "you can lose one hole with a big fat six or seven and bounce right back."

Burkemo took his first crack at the PGA in 1959—going all the way to the finals against Sam Snead at Oakmont.

"I learned then that you have to fight all the way in everything," he says with a grim grin. "Sam holed out from the rough to beat me on the first hole and had me six down at the end of seven holes. At the end of 18 holes I was only three down. But starting the final 18 holes of the 36-hole final he knocked in an 80-foot putt and I was so 'down' he beat me 7 and 6."

TWO YEARS LATER, Wally squared accounts with the fates as he beat Felice Torza in the final and the next year he proved his match play qualities again by going all the way to the final for the second year in a row before losing to Chick Harbert with the title on the line.

"I like medal play tournaments better," Burkemo says, which is a surprise considering his match play record. "I think they are a more fair test because everybody gets to go the same distance and, more or less, under the same circumstances. Then, too, I'm 33 years old and at the end of a week of this stuff I'm bushed."

But when they go at it Wednesday, the little man will be one of the top favorites in the field. A brassie bulldog, he has shown them too many times that head-to-head he's about as tough as they come.

Supervisor Hahn Makes Charge Today

Tells of O'Malley Request for Coliseum Play

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Los Angeles official today charged it would be "the biggest double cross in history" if the Brooklyn Dodgers failed to come to Los Angeles next year.

The statement was made by County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn who claimed Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley had gone so far in lining up Los Angeles as the new home for the Dodgers that the city and county were about to rip apart sections of the 105,000 seat Memorial Coliseum to make it a temporary field for the team until a baseball stadium could be built.

AT THE SAME time a joint city-county group announced it was appointing a business executive to get a "firm agreement" from O'Malley that he intends bringing the Brooklyn club here. The statements followed a New York World-Telegram and Sun story that O'Malley was about to be offered the "ideal" stadium site he sought in the heart of Brooklyn. The New York account quoted a spokesman for O'Malley as saying he was "extremely interested" in the new site offer if it is made.

Hahn declared he was revealing a recent request from O'Malley that Los Angeles should get the Coliseum ready for use by the Dodgers next year because of the latest New York reports. The plan to appoint a prominent business executive to confer with O'Malley was disclosed by Mayor Norris Poulson and County Supervisor John Anson Ford.

Hahn indicated that so far as he was concerned there was a verbal agreement and he doubted if the offer of a site was sufficient to change O'Malley's mind.

POULSON, HOWEVER, took the New York story lightly and declared, "I am not alarmed, let me put it that way."

Meanwhile, San Francisco Mayor George Christopher told a press conference Monday that the financial burden of pay-as-you-see television may keep the New York Giants and the Dodgers away from the West Coast.

He said Mark Sullivan, president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., had told him it would cost between $60 and $70 million to install a Skiatron closed circuit TV system in San Francisco and that the installation would take at least three years. Skiatron TV Inc. is seeking closed circuit franchises in both San Francisco and Los Angeles. Under the Skiatron system telephone subscribers can dial a baseball game or other events by paying a fee.

Hoad, Kramer Team Today In Doubles Play

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Lew Hoad, Jack Kramer's newest tennis attraction, will limit his play to a doubles appearance with his boss when the Tournament of Champions resumes today after a one-day layoff. Today's singles will pit Pancho Gonzales, world pro champion, against Ken Rosewall and Tony Trabert against Pancho Segura in the round-robin competition. In doubles, the Hoad-Kramer team will play Segura and Denny Pails while Gonzales and Rosewall will meet Trabert and Frank Sedgman.

A HIGHLY REGARDED possibility for the National League triple batting crown is Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who at mid-season leads the loop in hitting (.347), home runs (27) and runs-batted-in (73). (International)

Elks Pony Nine Wins Fifth Straight Game

The Palm Springs Elks Pony League team won its fifth straight game Saturday night at the Polo Grounds, 10 to 7 over Coachella, and took over second place in Desert County League standings.

A six-run first inning provided the margin of victory for the local team. The outburst of runs resulted from singles by Tony Gomez, Mike Helm, Carlos Reyes, Gil Flores and Dag Duran.

Coachella, although scoring three in the first, another three in the fifth and one in the sixth, never took over the lead. The Village Squad added two in the third and fourth frames.

Mike Helm got credit for the win, with Rick Gomez taking the loss.

The Pony Leaguers play again in Palm Springs on July 24.

The score: R. H. E.

Red Chinese Seek Entry to Winter Games

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has under "active consideration" a request that Red Chinese athletes be allowed to participate in the 1960 Olympic Winter Games in California.

Arrangements for the 1960 games have been complicated by U.S. restrictions on American travel to Communist countries and on admission of persons from those countries to the U.S.

California may lose the Winter Games, already officially awarded to Squaw Valley, unless the bars are lowered for Red Chinese athletes. Although not recognized by the U.S., Red China is a member of the International Olympic Committee which chooses the sites for the games.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the department had been requested by the California Olympics Organizing Committee to admit participants from all nations in good standing with the IOC.

Unless some such arrangement is made, the site may be switched to Innsbruck, Austria, which has made a strong pitch for the games.

Porter Favored In Tournament

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Match play in the 1957 Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament began today with 32 contestants in the championship flight.

The favorite in the week-long tourney is Barbara Romack Porter, Sacramento, Calif., who set a record for the Omaha Country Club course Monday with a three under par 70 in the qualifying round.

Mrs. Porter, who entered the tourney six times before, also tied the tournament qualifying record, set by Anne Quast, Marville, Wash., who won the tourney in 1956.

Junior Police 10, Hathaway-Buick 7.

Cameron Stars 13, Boys Club 1. The Cameron Stars and the Junior Police both had to come from behind last night at the Polo Grounds to win their respective games over the Boys Club and Hathaway-Buick Braves.

The Stars beat the Boys Club, 13-1 after trailing by one run for three innings, while the Junior Police rallied to beat Hathaway-Buick, 10-7.

THE NIGHT'S action left the Junior Police leading the Little League by three full games. The Stars and Braves are tied for second place while the Boys Club is in fourth place.

Jerry Olivera's three doubles and Doug Kaster's home run paced the Police to their victory after Hathaway-Buick got off to a four run lead in the first inning. The Junior Police scored five runs in a big third inning to clinch the game.

AN ELEVEN-RUN fourth inning broke open the second game as the Cameron Stars ran away with the win.

The Boys Club had clung to a one run lead through the early stages of the game, but then a combination of Star hitting and pitching trouble hit the losers.

Old Pros Rate Favorite Roles

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Professional Golfers Assn. Tournament begins Wednesday with a new format, but with the same old pros rated as the ones to beat.

Although they lowered the bars to let in their most promising newcomers, it still was the established players like Doug Ford and Sammy Snead in the favored roles.

The early line from the odds-makers, a day before the five-day match play grind starts, had Ford favored at 5-1. But right behind him came Snead, defending champion Jackie Burke and Walter Burkemo, who won it in 1953, at 10-1.

U.S. Open champion Dick Mayer was no better than a 20-1 shot, along with Chick Harbert, another former PGA winner, and Dow Finsterwald.

Philadelphia Senses Repeat Of Whiz Kids Performance

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Handsome Jack Sanford, ignored as a major league prospect by the Boston Red Sox 10 years ago because he was too small, stood at least 10 feet tall today in the eyes of Philadelphia's pennant-smelling fans.

The rookie right hander from Wellesley, Mass., pitched the Phillies into first place in the National League Monday night by posting a five-hit, 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

IT MARKED THE first time the Phillies occupied the top rung of the NL standings at this stage of the campaign since 1950. And nobody in Philadelphia has to be reminded that was the year the old Whiz Kids won the pennant.

This new group of Whiz Kids now has won 12 of its last 14 games, moving from fifth place on July 1 to its present elevation—a half-game ahead of the Cardinals. Sanford has been the "big man" in this drive, allowing only 15 hits while posting three straight complete game victories.

THE BROOKLYN Dodgers walked the Milwaukee Braves, 20-4.

Freeholders Check Manager Idea for County

Aiming for "something to shoot at," the County Board of Freeholders last night agreed to use a tentative proposal for a manager form of county government as their prime target.

The idea was introduced by former Supervisor Floyd E. Gilmore, who explained that the charter being drafted by the board is dependent upon a county manager or administrator.

THE PLAN WAS unanimously adopted and committees were appointed to explore all avenues of information.

Freeholder Gerald K. Sanborn, of Palm Springs, said that the proposal was "purely tentative," designed to give the board committees some sort of goal to stimulate their activities.

Various committees are working on different types of charter governments.

SANBORN, WHOSE committee is charged with engaging expert help, reported that the board will be addressed on the new theory Monday by representatives from UCLA's political science department.

He also noted that the executive committee has been instructed to prepare a master agenda listing what phases of charter development will be taken up at future meetings. The agenda will be formed this week.

Man Arrested For Setting Fire To Collie Dog

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP) — A 23-year-old ex-convict was arrested Monday as the man who set fire to a Collie dog after drenching its fur with turpentine.

Police said Frank Sturgill of nearby Belle admitted he was the one who turned Frisky, pet of young Lore and Neil Jackson, into a running ball of fire.

"I'm sorry," Sturgill was quoted by police as saying. "I don't know why I did it."

Authorities said Sturgill, on parole from a prison sentence for grand larceny, was picked up on information supplied by a 17-year-old boy. The youth was questioned by police along with two other youths reported seen in the vicinity where Frisky was victimized.

Sturgill was charged with cruelty to animals in a warrant obtained by Charleston Humane Association. A spokesman for the state fire marshal's office indicated charges also may be brought under the arson law.

Frisky was reported on the road to recovery but was saved from death only when he leaped into the Kanawha River after running aimlessly about the neighborhood with his fur aflame.

Meeting Dates For Next Two Months Set

Tentative dates of important meetings for the next two months were announced by City Manager R. W. Peterson yesterday at the council luncheon at the Chi Chi restaurant.

Peterson said that the council would hold only one meeting during the month of September, possibly on Sept. 18.

A joint meeting with the members of the Indian council is scheduled for either July 22 or 29.

The League of Riverside County Cities will hold its next meeting on Sept. 19, discontinuing all meetings during the month of July and August.

James M. Cox, Presidential Candidate in 1920, Dies at 87

DAYTON, Ohio (UP) — James M. Cox, who arose from a country school teacher to be newspaper publisher, governor and Democratic candidate for president in 1920, died at his home here Monday night. He was 87.

On the 1920 ticket with Cox was vice presidential candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt, at that time assistant secretary of the Navy and who later was elected president four times.

COX, OHIO'S FIRST three-time Democratic governor, won his party's nomination for the presidency on the 44th ballot in the 1920 San Francisco convention after a heated contest against U.S. Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and Sen. William G. McAdoo.

Cox's nomination for president made certain an Ohio newspaperman would be elected the country's chief executive.

Secret Service Arrests 19 for Counterfeiting

CHICAGO (UP) — A counterfeit ring which recruited narcotics addicts to pass $60,000 in bogus bills has been cracked with the arrest of 19 persons, U. S. Secret Service agents said today.

Paul J. Paterni, head of the local Secret Service office, identified Jesse Cowan, 27, as the leader of the gang of 18 men and one woman, all of whom were apprehended in recent days.

He said all but four of them were drug addicts who agreed to pass the crudely printed $5 bills to satisfy their cravings for narcotics.

The bills were printed on a Sunday last month by two employees of the R. G. Davidson Co., a printing firm, Paterni said. The employees, Martin Bough, 29, and his brother, Donald, 30, allegedly used the plant's equipment to print the money. The Boughs were held in $20,000 bond.

Paterni said the bills began turning up at various points in Chicago, but most of them were concentrated at the Riverview Amusement Park where four of the alleged bogus bill passers were seized.

He said the engraving work was poor and some of the ink was of the wrong color, making the phony money easy to spot.

Tradition Broken

ACTON, Mass. — (UP) — For the first time in 101 years, Acton has a town clerk whose name is not Tuttle. When Harlan E. Tuttle, 53, resigned recently he broke a family tradition that covered three generations. Charles M. Macrae took over Tuttle's job.

BUDGET

Rumwell asked Schools Supt. Wallace R. Muelder.

MUELDER REPLIED in the affirmative and also confirmed Rumwell's belief that the school tax rate would not be increased. "We are virtually assured that there will be no increase in the tax rate," Muelder said, pointing out the tremendous increase in assessed property evaluation in the school district.

"That is very encouraging," Rumwell remarked.

In the revised budget, building improvement costs were raised from $39,044 to $109,222, marking a $70,178 increase. The funds, from capital outlay, will be used for two classrooms each at Cathedral City and Nellie N. Coffman schools.

TWO CLASSROOMS were already planned for Cielo Vista School, to be built with the aid of $36,500 in federal funds.

Muelder said he hoped $91,845, earmarked for high school site improvements, from capital outlay and shifted it to the building fund. Unaffected by the budget, building funds are made up of bond monies and reserves.

Muelder said the only high school project immediately planned is the interior parking lot and safety features. The rest, including construction of tennis courts and bus ramps, will be delayed until the status of the building fund can be examined after completion of the current high school building projects.

PROBABLY POSTPONED until next year is development of an interior school grounds roadway, the site's eastern parking lot, near the auditorium.

Muelder explained that since there was no need for these items until the auditorium and music buildings are completed, it was felt that these funds should be used for classroom expansion.

Graham Crusade May Be Extended For Second Time

NEW YORK (UP) — The Executive Committee that runs Billy Graham's New York Crusade will meet late today to determine whether to extend the crusade an additional two or three weeks.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist and the committee are "praying over the matter to decide whether the Lord is leading them to extend the meetings."

If the crusade is extended, it would be the second time the Executive Committee has so acted. The crusade opened May 15 and was to have closed June 30, but was extended to July 20.

Graham has called his crusade in New York "highly successful" and has outlasted and outdrawn every other attraction in the 30-year history of Madison Square Garden. Nearly 1,038,000 persons have attended his meetings, which are held daily except Monday.

Strike May Bring Cooling Winds

It may be an odd quirk, but the current plumbers' strike may help in sending cooling winds wafting over resort area heat sufferers.

Henry A. Simsarian today reported that for the duration of the strike, Village area residents may obtain Carrier refrigerated air conditioning units at less than two-thirds of their normal cost.

Road Bids to Be Opened July 30

City Manager R. W. Peterson yesterday told the city council that bids for the widening and paving of Tahquitz Drive and Ramon Road will be opened on July 30.

The council will be able to award contracts to the lowest responsible bidder at its meeting on July 31.

The bids will call for the widening of Tahquitz Drive between Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive, and the widening, paving, and curbing of part of Ramon Road between the High School and Sunrise Way.

French Cabinet May Fall on Power Issue

By UNITED PRESS

France is engaged in a civil rights battle which could cause the fall of the cabinet this week.

Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury is trying to get the National Assembly, the controlling house of parliament, to give his government special powers to suppress terrorism by Algerian nationalist rebels.

THE TROUBLE is that the special powers would be operative not only in Algeria, but in France itself, where 400,000 Algerians live.

Members of parliament are afraid that if a tough government got into office the special powers might be used against Frenchmen as well as Algerians.

Nearly every party represented in parliament is against the special powers bill for that reason.

Employees of City May Lose Health, Accident Protection

Employees of the City of Palm Springs soon may be in the position of having no accident or health insurance protection, it was learned in a report made by City Manager R. W. Peterson to the city council yesterday.

According to Peterson, the coverage which is currently held by California Physicians Service, has been cancelled because of less than 75 per cent of the employees being signed up.

BUT THIS IS not where the city manager's troubles end, for at the same time CPS announced an increase in rates and a change in benefits. Peterson pointed out that if the city did not have 75 per cent signed up before the rate increase, it will be doubly hard to sign up the needed amount after the increase.

The city asked for a time extension.

Hearing Set On Zone Change

A hearing into the matter of the refusal by the Planning Commission to approve a zone change to David Rose for a Medical Center on Tachevah, will be held by the city council on July 31.

A request for the hearing was asked by Thompson and Colgate, Rose's attorney, following the decision by the planning commission.
